Summary:

The project aims to fight the gender-based violence phenomenon by acting in areas such as prevention, victim protection, and promotion of integrated policies across the territories of Catanzaro, Crotona, and Cerreto Sannita. The proposed project is to be integrated within initiatives already in place and developed both by the project leader and by the partner—the social cooperative Noemi. In an effort to assist more cases, 'Camper delle Donne' (A Women's Camper) will start operating and in this way provide support services to women who have experienced gender-based violence. An additional initiative is to implement a skills transfer between territories, where the service providers of the anti-violence centres in Catanzaro and Crotona will train the service providers of the newly established anti-violence centre in Cerreto Sannita. In order to interrupt the economic dependence of women who have experienced gender-based violence, a career guidance services will be offered and about 8 job placements in local companies will be available for a period of 12 months. Furthermore, a particular attention will be paid to the gender-violence phenomenon in the world of female drug addiction, by providing specialized training for service providers and by defining an action plan. The beneficiaries of the above-mentioned initiatives will be approximately 80 women survivors of violence coming from local anti-violence centres and/or who have been reached by the partners during information campaigns.

Summary:

The project aims to promote living and working independence of women in the Sanità District of Naples, by supporting their process of leaving violent situations. More specifically, in a space provided by the Association A Ruota Libera, an assistance desk will be set up and offer career guidance, psychological and legal support. For women who are leaving the shelters and in support of their semi-independence, 9 traineeships and 6 accommodation grants will be available. Further, this project plans to strengthen the network between the institutional services, the associations and the psychological assistance desks Dafne Center, located at the Emergency Room of the Cardarelli Hospital. It also includes specific activities in support of minors who have witnessed violence, parenting courses and workshops, and awareness-raising activities offered in 10 local schools. The project is expected to reach approximately 600 women victims of violence and up to 40 minors, victims of secondary violence.

Summary:

The project aims to put a spotlight on the violence against women phenomenon in certain isolated and poorly connected places in the province of Salerno, intervening both on the development of services and on strengthening the independence and self-sufficiency of women survivors of violence. Specifically, the project will offer training for up to 50 service providers who work in this field and activate 8 mobile anti-violence centres, managed by the partners (Aretusa in Atena Lucana and IRIS - assistance desk Pierangela in Sapri). The mobile centres will cover 35 municipalities of the 2 territorial areas (S9 and S10) with set opening hours and will in addition offer health screenings for about 30 women. Moreover, the project plans specific activities to support approximately 120 women survivors of violence towards independence by offering traineeships, career and job-search guidance, and housing assistance (co-housing, voucher). Finally, educational courses on healthy relationships will be offered for nearly 100 high school students. The project, in all, will support about 80 women survivors of violence, 20 survivors of trafficking and 20 survivors of sexual exploitation, who have been reached by the mobile and the established anti-violence centres.

Summary:

The project, which is being developed in the province of Foggia, aims at strengthening the prevention services and exposing of violence against women cases. In particular, a training course will be provided for the anti-violence service providers of the province to change them into 'guards against violence.' Their tasks will be reaching victims or potential victims of violence, conducting risk assessment for repeated offences, creating and offering strategies to leave abusive situations, and supporting self-recovery. At the same time, there will be initiatives for social and work-related inclusion for about 55 survivors of violence through the launch of career guidance services, 'arts and crafts' workshops, entrepreneurship training courses, professional matching with companies and 24 job placements. A total of 20,000 Italian and foreign women at risk of intimate partner or non-partner violence are expected to be reached and approximately 250 of which will be directly involved in the available activities.
